JUDGING

At least two judges separately evaluate each color, and in case a larger number of pigeons of a particular color is exhibited, the evaluation is conducted by three judges. Before publishing the final results, the Judicial Commission, led by the President of the Judicial Commission, Gerhard Meier, reviews ratings and confirms the champion titles.

Color awards are given out only if at least three exhibitors from at least two different countries have displayed twenty or more pigeons of that color. For colors with between 20 and 50 exhibits, four awards are awarded: gold (first place) for a male and a female with 97 points and silver (second place) for a male and a female with 96 or 95 points. In colors with more than fifty specimens, bronze (third place) is awarded for a male and a female, i.e. a total of six prizes.

One male and one female are selected as show winners of the breed from champions in all colors of the breed. The exhibitor with four best-rated specimens gains the title of the Club Master of Europe, and the second best gets the title of the Club Vice Master of Europe.

COMPLAINTS

In order to become eligible to make an appeal, the exhibitors must deposit €50. The appeal is then referred to the Judicial Commission, where it is taken into consideration. If the appeal is accepted, the deposit will be returned to the exhibitor and the mistake will be corrected, but if it is concluded that the appeal is unfounded, money stays in the European Club of English and Pigmy Pouter Breeders. Personally approaching the judges due to one's dissatisfaction with the results, like every other inadequate way of filing a complaint, will not be tolerated.

SALES

During the exhibition, any form of private sale in the hall, in its parking lot and within five hundred meters of the gym, is strictly forbidden. The price of a pigeon is decided by the exhibitor when applying for the exhibition. The exhibitor may change the price or add it at the exhibition after notifying the Competition Committee and obtaining their permission. Each transaction is carried out with the knowledge of the Competition Committee to which a fixed fee of €10 is paid per sold pigeon (regardless of the price at which it was sold). Exhibitors are therefore not allowed to open cages, take pigeons out of them, add or alter the prices on their own at any time.

HEALTH REQUIREMENTS

Each exhibitor is obliged to submit a properly filled in form (Health confirmation) signed by the veterinarian and the exhibitor himself. By signing it, you guarantee that all applied animals are healthy, have been provided regular medical and hygienic care and that all their given data is correct (ring marks, age, sex...).
